A NEW WIFE FOR JOHN¹ SANBORNE!

Just when you thought it was safe to fill in the name of the mother of nine of John¹ Sanborne's ten children, something like this happens!

During a routine search of early records for mentions of our Sanborn brothers, the astonishing document shown below surfaced. The timing of the deposition introduces grave doubt as to whether Mary (Tuck) Sanborne could have been the mother of any of John's children before Ann, born in 1662.

Although the paper itself is not dated, it was submitted at the June 1662 Term of the Essex County Quarterly Court. A transcription follows:

"The Deposition of John Heillbroocke.

This Deponent Saith that he beinge at Johne Sanburnes weddinge it beinge a verrie weake daytime the sd: Deponent goeing out of doores he did see Francis Swayne & Goodwife Joanes goe into a little house that stode alone from the other house, & the sd: Jn^o: did see noe light in that house...."

It is clear from this that Mr. Heillbroocke felt that it was inappropriate for Mr. Swain and Mrs. Jones to be off by themselves, but no other witnesses came forward and no further action appears to have been taken. Although he had a history of this sort of indiscretion, Swayne was dead within the year and Mrs. [Sara] Jones is unidentifiable... However, since a complaint such as this would generally not be brought at a time very distant from the moment of the transgression, generally not more than a year, we are left with the strong evidence that a John Sanburne was getting married some time shortly before June of 1662.

As far as we know, only two John Sanborns were alive in Hampton in 1661-2. John¹, born 1620, and his son and first known child, John², born about 1649. Certainly John² was too young to be marrying in 1661-2, so that leaves John¹.

We know that Mary (Tuck) Sanborne died ten days after the birth of her son, Benjamin, on 20 December 1668. This is only seven years after the couple's probable wedding in 1661-2. If John married Mary Tuck in 1661-2, who was the mother of his first seven children?

It is interesting to note that on the 20th day of the second month, 1647, the Reverend Stephen Bachiler deeded his homestead and lands to John

A NEW WIFE, concluded

Sanborne, his grandson. This would appear to roughly correspond with the probable time of John's first marriage. It also corresponds with Rev. Bachiler's move to Portsmouth, but suggests that once John had title to the land he had evidently been living on, he felt free to marry, or possibly because he announced his intention to marry, his grandfather felt it time to pass the deed to him.

Rev. Bachiler's library and presumably his own record of baptisms, marriages and burials along with about £200 worth of books burned between 1644 and 1648. If he performed John's first marriage, the record may have burned with these others.

Looking to the naming patterns in John's first seven children, it is simple to account for John (for his father), Stephen (for Rev. Bachiler and John's brother) and Ann (for Ann Bachiler Sanborne Atkinson). If the mother of these children was not Mary Tuck, then for whom are the two, unfortunate little girls, born 1651 and 1657 and both dying at age three, named? Likewise, Abigail, Richard and Joseph are not names chosen by John's brothers, although all but Richard are common enough in Hampton. The only Richard in evidence there by 1655 is Richard Swayne, father of the errant Francis and a strong-minded man who was later excommunicated as a Quaker.

It is completely possible that Abigail and Joseph came from the same source as William's Mephibosheth and nothing more need be said about them, but Richard may be more of a clue.

To complicate matters, there are only one year and 8 days between the births of Stephen (presumably by the first wife) and Ann (presumably by the second). While it is possible, it stretches things to fit Stephen's birth, the death of his mother, the courtship and remarriage to the second wife and her conception of Ann into so short a time. In fact, the only considerable gap in the births of John's children is the one following Ann, into which V.C. Sanborn and others have tried to fit Dinah Sanborn Marston.

Even if it turns out that Mr. John Heillbroocke was deposing about an event that took place more than fifteen years earlier, we gain from this little piece of paper a quick glimpse of the wedding day. We know now that Mr. Heillbroocke, Francis Swayne and Goodwife Jones were there. Were they close friends of the family? Relatives? Or just part of a very large gathering? It isn't really clear where the event was taking place. It was John's wedding, but was it at his bride's home? Truly, the work of an historian and a genealogist is never done!

NEW SANBORN FAMILY ASSOCIATION LIFE MEMBERS

We are extremely pleased to welcome another four Sanborn descendants to life membership in the SFA.

Katharine N. Porth of Springfield, MA
Donald R. Sanborn of Epping, NH
Augusta S. Goennell of Rowayton, CT
Martha Sanborn of Gorham, ME

Life Membership fees are placed in a Certificate of Deposit and the interest is used to support our very worthwhile projects. At the last Executive Board Meeting it was discovered that because of very low interest rates, the Life Membership fee did not provide enough interest to support yearly dues. To correct this, the Life Membership rate was raised to ~~$150~~¹²⁵, effective January 1, 1988.

We now have 49 Life Members! Thank you for your faith in the continuing goals of the Sanborn Family Association!

TIME TO RENEW!

Remember, membership is now on a straight calendar year schedule. Be sure to renew now for 1988.

We plan a truly splendid 5th reunion in 1988. This date is also the 350th anniversary of the founding of Hampton, NH. Be sure to keep your membership up-to-date so that you will receive your Reunion reservation forms in the next SANBORN SIGNATURES.

The Sanborn Family Association is a not-for-profit organization composed of persons interested in Sanborns. Most of our members descend from the three English brothers, John, William and Stephen Sanborne who came to America circa 1632. Others may come from the Swedish, Norwegian, Jewish and Portuguese immigrants of later dates. All interested persons are welcome!

Thank you to the people who have offered to comb their local county courthouses for Sanborn deeds and probates. We have abstraction forms for any new volunteers who would like to contribute to the effort!

ENGLISH TOUR

We feel that it is very important to plan where we visit on the upcoming English tour of Sanborn origins. Keeping abreast of the discoveries made by our English researcher, we have realized that to plan this well we need another year to settle our itinerary. Look for 1989 tour news after the 1988 Reunion!

OUR FOURTH REUNION

THE SANBORNS
1194 to ?

A most cordial group of cousins gathered together for our fourth reunion, hosted by the Holiday Inn in Manchester, NH. Reunion Chair Margaret Hussey ordered attractive pins which said "I'm a descendant of John" (or William or Stephen) and many attendees wore both William and John buttons. A rumor that there was a Stephen descendant in the crowd proved to be unfounded!

After a hearty meal, the program included remarks from Margaret Hussey, George F. Sanborn Jr., Dr. George A. Sanborn and reports from the Executive Board officers. A roll call of the states and provinces was taken, with two of our California cousins taking "came the farthest" honors.

Reunion Chair Margaret Hussey and retiring Secretary Janet Swanson were given small tokens of our appreciation. Janet Swanson was also the happy winner of the drawing for the copy of the 1899 Sanborn genealogy.

California cousin Mary Jane Sanborn Lewis was in attendance and announced the upcoming reunion of the Sanborn families of Southern California on September 20th in Orange, CA. (We have since heard from Mary Jane and the regional reunion was a resounding success!).

Nominating committee Co-Chair Rose Buckman Morrison presented the slate of new officers for election and all candidates were unanimously approved. The new Executive Board consists of: President George F. Sanborn Jr., V.-P. Mary Ellen Bradford; Treas. Ruth Anne Norcross, Secretary Ruth MacPherson, Asst. Secretary Ruth S. Sanborn, Genealogist Melinde Lutz Sanborn, Membership Committee Chairman Margaret E. Hussey and Finance Committee Chairman Sanborn Partridge.

A 4' x 11' scroll containing bits and pieces of Sanborn heritage was pinned to the wall and generated quite a bit of comment. Mary Jane Sanborn Lewis carried it off to California to display it at the September reunion.

The Genealogist took home so many wonderful new additions to the family story that her house has not been the same since! Of special note was the book about a Trip to Timsbury written by new Life Member Augusta Goennel.

Plans for next year's extra-special reunion are already in the works. See you there!

The Sanborns were a sturdy band,
Born and bred in another land.
They chose to come and settle down
In a small New Hampshire town.

In 1632 they came,
Not seeking riches or even fame,
But just for the right to be -
Themselves once more - to be free.

Teachers and preachers and doctors, too,
Lawyers and bankers - there were quite a few.
Honest farmers, there were many,
Lazy loafers, were there any?

They made their mark in many a place,
Served in our armies, and by God's good grace,
Lived to serve in another way,
In this country where they came to stay.

by Margery Lawida

Our eldest and youngest in attendance at the 1987 SFA Reunion - Margery Lawida and Lowell Freeman Sanborn, age 4 months.

NOTES ON THE ENGLISH RESEARCH

Our English researcher, a man of consummate skill and understanding of the days of the Great Migration, specializes in Englishmen who went to the colonies in the 1600s. He has been devoting much serious effort to determining the fate of our Ann Bachiler Sanborne, who is known to have been a widow in June of 1631 and whom various sources report to have married secondly at Strood, co. Kent sometime in January of 1631/2 one Henry Atkinson of London. Our researcher knows London well and has proceeded to eliminate any number of Henry Atkinsons who made their home there from our list of possibilities. Now we begin to hope that our Henry and Ann did not return to London to live, since they appear to have left no traces there.

The true challenge, of course, is to identify the unknown Sanborn, husband of Ann Bachiler and father of John, William and Stephen. Our English researcher is of the opinion, as was V.C. Sanborn, that our man comes from the Somerset/Hants branches of this old family.

A recent search of the Bernau index shows two, long pages of Sanborn entries under all variant spellings. This features a Francis, Henry, Hy, Richard, and James who are alive and active in the crucial period 1624-1631. Many others appear in imprecisely dated entries, so they, too, may be viable candidates for our ancestor. Searching all these entries will be expensive and time-consuming, but we have a number of very interesting items to justify no small amount of enthusiasm. Anthony Gatonby, the Puritan rector of Clatford, Hants., a close colleague of Rev. Stephen Bachiler's, was married to a Sanborn. Here we have for the first time a connection in print between the Bachilers and the Sambornes.

Another intriguing item is the Atkinson-Bate suit found at the PRO which involves one Henry Atkinson of London versus one John Bate. Bate, of course, is the maiden name of our Ann Bachiler's mother. The photocopy in our hands of this single piece of vellum, which comprises the entire case, is just sufficiently indistinct to make reading difficult. Coupled with the flourishing 17th century hand, suffice it to say that we are awaiting the transcription! This may be a suit between cousins, or Ann and husband suing her uncle, but we wait with great interest....

THE ISLE OF WIGHT, VA SANBORNS

In our last issue we caught a brief glimpse of the surprising Quaker Sanborn family which appeared in Isle of Wight County, VA records in the late 1680s. Daniel Sanborn and his wife Sarah were respected members of the Quaker community and mention was made of their daughter, Mary, in the few records we encountered.

SFA member Sally C. Pusey of Haymarket, VA picked up the challenge and has generously researched the family of Daniel Sanborn so that we can add many more bits of information to our collection.

Land records cited in SEVENTEENTH CENTURY ISLE OF WIGHT COUNTY VIRGINIA, A HISTORY... (Baltimore, MD: GPC, 1980) showed that Daniel Sanborn was a carpenter.

Daniel and Sarah Sanborn had at least two daughters, Elizabeth, probably the eldest, and Mary. About 1702, Elizabeth married into the prominent Jordan family and four years later, her sister, Mary, married Joseph Woodson. By 1711, Daniel was dead, leaving a will which mentioned his daughter, Elizabeth and her husband, Joshua Jordan and their daughter, Sarah Jordan, and Daniel's grandson Woodson Sanbourne Woodson. His wife is made executrix, but her name appears to have been Elizabeth at this time, not Sarah.

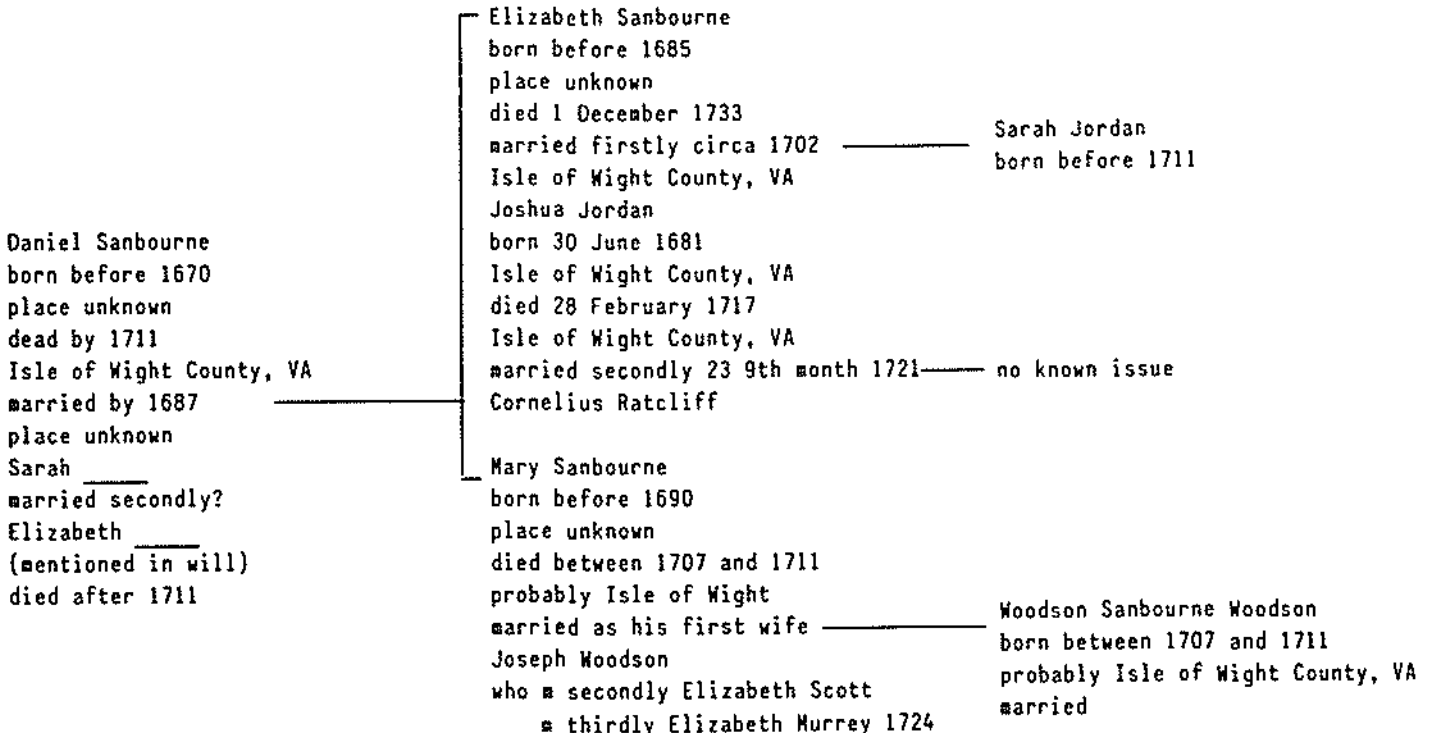

Published evidence of Daniel's grandchildren is very sparse. Beyond her mention in his will, Sarah Jordan has not yet reappeared, nor whom she might have married. Woodson Sanbourne Woodson is said to have married twice and had issue by both wives (GENEALOGIES OF VIRGINIA FAMILIES FROM THE WILLIAM AND MARY COLLEGE QUARTERLY HISTORICAL MAGAZINE, [Baltimore, MD: GPC, 1982], v. 5, p. 554.).

Since Elizabeth seems to have been Joshua Jordan's only wife, a look at his will, dated 28 February 1717, might settle the question of any further issue.

In the short five years between her marriage and the probating of her father's will showing her to be deceased, it is unlikely that Mary had surviving children beyond the son mentioned in Daniel's will.

Daniel's family "daughtered-out," so it is not surprising that we do not find the surname later in census records, but in her research, Sally Pusey discovered yet another Sanborn in Virginia. In the 1704 Quit Rents lists, Prince George's County boasts one William Sandborne with 300 acres.

The presence of two, perhaps unrelated, Sanborns in Virginia almost as early as the New Hampshire settlers suggests multiple English origins for the American Sanborn cousins. The challenge grows!

PICTURES, PICTURES, WE LOVE PICTURES!

In response to our plea for old pictures of Sanborns from the period 1842-1900, quite a number of lovely copies have come to the Association. The serene, dignified little faces below are a case in point, the four children of Dr. Bigelow Thatcher Sanborn of Augusta, ME, taken in 1889. While V.C. Sanborn ran a fine picture of the Dr. and more than two pages of text describing his career and contributions, it was only in the addenda the these four children are mentioned and even then, all four of their dates of birth are incorrect. Although V.C. Sanborn was deeply interested in the English origins of the family, he inherited much of the manuscript for the 1899 genealogy and many of the families presented there were never traced by him personally. Much of the updating of the book was done by direct correspondence with persons depicted. We are indebted to our member Margaret Sanborn Hodgdon of East Boothbay, ME for correcting and updating this line. A descendant of Dr. Bigelow Sanborn's second son, Walter, she also sent copies of several fine photographs of these Sanborns. Despite the frilly white dress and the long, blonde tresses, the youngest subject of this sitting was Raymond Francis Sanborn - reminding us of this old custom, dressing little boys in this manner and letting their hair grow quite long before cutting it at about age 3 or 4.

Standing rear right: Walter Martin, born 29 September 1882 in Augusta, ME; died 27 October 1965 in Augusta; married 11 October 1917 Nita Leola Goodell and had two sons and a daughter; a 1905 graduate of Bowdoin College and 1908 of Harvard Law School; President of First National Granite Bank and others; Seated center: Maude Louise Sanborn, born 6 November 1875 in Augusta, ME; died 10 April 1907 in Palermo, ME; married 2 June 1903 Dr. Henry Kingsbury Stinson and had two children; Standing rear left: Warren Bigelow Sanborn, born 3 February 1878 in Augusta, ME; died 16 June 1956 in RI; married 12 April 1911 Helen Noyes Gale and had one daughter; graduated from Atlantic Medical College in Baltimore, MD and practiced in Augusta and in Virginia; Standing in white: Raymond Francis Sanborn, born 8 September 1886 in Augusta, ME; died 23 July 1942 in Portland, ME; single; attended medical school in VT but did not enter medicine.

Dr. Bigelow T. Sanborn died of a cerebral hemorrhage 15 April 1910 in Augusta, ME. His wife and mother of his children, Emma Frances Martin, died 17 June 1906. Both are buried in Forest Grove Cemetery in Augusta.

Dr. Sanborn kept daily diaries which have been donated to the library at Bowdoin College.

We invite other readers to send in their old pictures and family updates for eventual inclusion in the new Sanborn genealogy.

Back to the Summer of 1918
